The Ship Date and/or Delivery Date entered is not in the current year. Please click the Cancel button if you wish to change this date. If the date is correct, please click the OK button.

Note: Bold fields are required fields.

The system will now detect if dates are entered with a year that is not the current year. The example above detects that the user entered a Pick-up Date of 09/12/2002. The current year is 2003. Therefore the user is prompted to review the request, and make changes, as needed. Other examples are illustrated on the following page.

Freight Information

This is another example of a common keystroke error. The user meant to enter 2003, but entered 2030 in error.

In response to this alert, the user would click on the Cancel button, and fix the date.
