EVANS TRANSPORTATION SERVICES ACHIEVES GROWTH MILESTONES

Freight Services Division Adds 500th customer, 30th employee in two years

Brookfield, Wis.—October 10, 2011—With the recent addition of 10 new professionals to its Freight Services Division, Evans Transportation Services, a third-party logistics provider, today announced its brokerage division now totals 30 employees and 500 customers. Evans launched Evans Freight Services (EFS) in 2009 to complement its logistics services division.

“We are seeing real traction with customers who are frustrated with the escalating cost of transportation,” says Tom Aumann, EFS Division Vice President. “When customers call, we help them understand the market, offer options, and above all provide excellent service. In today’s environment, this is the most important value to customers.”

Evans has developed a loyal carrier base over 25 years, which has played a key role in providing brokerage customers an easy, cost-effective way to access transportation capacity to help with their freight needs.

“Manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers are experiencing difficulty accessing transportation services,” Evans’ CEO Don Cox says. “When the economy skidded, transportation fleets were taken off the road and a lack of transportation capacity resulted. As a result, business owners must keep an eye out for rising transportation costs and decreases in service levels as demand continues to outpace transportation capacity.”

As a logistics services company, Evans provides world-class freight solutions for leading companies in diverse industries across North America.
