EVANS EMPLOYEES RANK FREIGHT SERVICES FIRM TOP WORKPLACE

Brookfield, Wis.–July 12, 2011—Evans Transportation Services employees recently catapulted the third-party logistics provider into the rarified status of being one of the best places to work in southeast Wisconsin.

As part of an annual survey conducted by the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel, Evans received an honorable mention for its ability to engage and retain employees.

“We see the results of this survey as another verification of what our customers already experience,” says Don Cox, Evans CEO. “Companies, who believe and live each day knowing people are their greatest asset, create environments for people to thrive. This translates directly to the bottom line through customer satisfaction.”

One of the anonymous survey respondents shared the following opinion on the employee experience at Evans Transportation Services.

“I learn many areas of the company,” the Evans employee writes. “My manager trusts me doing projects for him. I constantly get positive feedback from many managers. The environment overall is positive, friendly and uplifting.”

During one of the most significant economic downturns in the United States, the survey sought out companies that remained resolute in providing a fulfilling work experience as part of an overall business strategy focused on employee satisfaction.

“Our people at Evans who ranked us as a top workplace have as much a role in making this a great place to work as the company itself,” Cox adds. “They provide great service to their customers across North America every day, no matter what might be going on in their own lives, and I admire them for what is a unique gift that many people are unable to achieve. When you see it and feel it as a customer, or from the people working around you, it creates a rewarding experience for all.”

As a logistics services company, Evans provides world-class freight solutions for leading companies in diverse industries across North America.
